

Leading Self SELF NAVIGATION Creating Your Next Version

Self-Navigation is a powerful experience for development of key talents, managers and high potentials to lead themselves effectively in times of change. For people in crossroads or transition to develop their own next version, or as a part of leadership development pathway.

It is a life changing self-leadership workshop.

Provides higher and deeper level of development for leaders.

Equips leaders with key tools to motivate, direct and lead themselves through times of change.

Synchronizes individual motivations with those of the organization, allowing better retention of the leaders and the Organization.

Creates a forward movement driven by ownership and accountability.

How does it work?

Face to Face intervention:

Two day experiential workshop in which each participant finds their genuine personal direction within the organization based on their true motivations. Participants break through their limitations and prepare an execution plan.

The workshop is enriched by simulations and experiential activities.

Preparation:

Pre-workshop online questionnaire.

Implementation:

Follow up of optional individual coaching where needed.

Post-workshop online questionnaire to measure ROI.

What can you expect?

Allowing high potentials to drive their own career in the organization, leads to high level of retention. Helping participants break through their limiting beliefs and reach their potential develops the talent in the organization. This solution Drives millennials to develop and grow inside your organization.
